Leadership logic model

Enablers of good leadership

Strategic vision and expectations are clear and communicated well; people feel supported, valued and respected; atmosphere of openness, trust and good relationships; work and achievements are acknowledged; levels of pay are sufficient to recruit and retain good staff; people have a voice and are treated fairly; responsibility is shared; people are self-aware and there is a culture of reflection, learning and development.

What do good leaders need?	What do good leaders bring?	What do good leaders do?	How do good leaders engage?	How do people respond?	What difference does it make?	What are the outcomes?
Support Challenge Time to reflect and develop lear communication Enabling culture Recognition and understanding	Honesty, openness and authenticity Self-awareness Resilience Courage and vulnerability Adaptability Knowledge, skills and experience Readiness to keep learning Curiosity and creativity	Foster shared purpose and set direction Make decisions Manage change and risk Influence Motivate, develop and empower Communicate well Build trust Build and sustain relationships Understand and learn	Appreciate the importance of relationships Are approachable and responsive Model good practice Support, coach and mentor Are active and purposeful Value diversity	People feel valued People feel motivated, empowered and have trust in those around them People feel safe and confident to raise issues or give feedback Partners engage across boundaries and work together towards shared goals	Roles and responsibilities are clear People are well informed People know what support they will receive Partners have mutual respect, share common purpose and value each other's contribution	A workforce that is trusted, skilled, confident and continually improving Services that are responsive and that provide peopl with good support There is an open an transparent cultur where feedback an dialogue are value

Risks or barriers to good leadership

Lack of time for reflection and development; lack of parity and fair terms and conditions; excessive workloads; change fatigue; poor communication; negative or 'blame' cultures; micro management; poor systems and processes; social care devalued in society; lack of vision and direction.
